

Disclaimer

Last Revised: July 10, 2026

1. Introduction

This Disclaimer applies to the website located at <https://huroniasystems.ca>, the Client Portal, knowledge base, website audits, articles, guides, consultations, demonstrations, previews, reports, recommendations, and other general information made available by Huronia Systems Ltd. ("Huron Systems", "we", "us", or "our").

This Disclaimer should be read together with our Terms & Conditions, Privacy Policy, Acceptable Use Policy, Refund & Cancellation Policy, and any applicable Project Agreement.

Where a signed Project Agreement contains terms that conflict with this Disclaimer, the signed Project Agreement will prevail to the extent of the conflict.

2. General Information

Information made available through our website, Client Portal, knowledge base, reports, audits, consultations, or other materials is provided for general informational purposes unless expressly incorporated into a signed Project Agreement.

Although Huronia Systems takes reasonable steps to provide useful and accurate information, we do not represent or warrant that all general information is:

- Complete;
- Current;
- Accurate;
- Suitable for every situation;
- Free from errors or omissions; or
- Applicable to a particular person, business, system, or project.

Information may become outdated because of changes to technology, software, third-party services, business practices, industry standards, or applicable law.

You are responsible for evaluating whether general information is appropriate for your circumstances before relying upon or acting upon it.

3. No Professional Advice

Unless expressly stated in a signed Project Agreement, information provided by Huronia Systems does not constitute:

- Legal advice;
- Accounting advice;
- Tax advice;
- Financial or investment advice;
- Insurance advice;
- Regulatory advice;
- Medical advice; or
- Any other regulated professional advice.

You should consult a qualified professional before making decisions that require specialized legal, financial, accounting, tax, regulatory, medical, or other professional expertise.

No communication with Huronia Systems creates a lawyer-client, accountant-client, financial adviser-client, healthcare provider-patient, or other regulated professional relationship.

4. Professional Technology Services

Huronia Systems provides professional technology services subject to the scope, limitations, assumptions, and responsibilities established in the applicable Project Agreement.

General discussions, preliminary recommendations, demonstrations, consultations, estimates, audits, prototypes, previews, and informal communications do not create a contractual obligation unless confirmed in writing by Huronia Systems or incorporated into a signed Project Agreement.

Huronia Systems does not guarantee that every recommendation, design, implementation, or technical decision will be suitable for every environment or use case.

Technology outcomes may depend on factors outside our control, including:

- Client systems and equipment;
- Third-party software and services;
- Hosting infrastructure;
- Internet connectivity;
- User behaviour;
- Client-provided information;

- Security practices;
- Software updates;
- Platform changes; and
- Requirements not disclosed to Huronia Systems.

5. Website Audits and Recommendations

Website audits, technical reviews, performance reports, accessibility observations, search engine optimization recommendations, and security observations reflect the information and conditions reasonably available at the time of review.

An audit or review may not identify every:

- Error;
- Defect;
- Vulnerability;
- Compatibility issue;
- Accessibility issue;
- Legal compliance concern;
- Performance limitation;
- Search engine issue; or
- Opportunity for improvement.

Audit results may change after software updates, content changes, configuration changes, third-party service changes, or other modifications.

Unless expressly stated in a signed Project Agreement, an audit does not constitute:

- A certification;
- A guarantee of legal compliance;
- A guarantee of security;
- A penetration test;
- A formal accessibility certification;
- A guarantee of search engine ranking; or
- A guarantee of a particular business result.

Clients remain responsible for deciding whether and how to implement recommendations.

6. Search Engine Optimization and Business Results

Huronia Systems may provide search engine optimization, performance improvement, design, branding, analytics, consulting, and related Services.

Search rankings, website traffic, visitor behaviour, conversion rates, revenue, customer acquisition, and other business results depend on factors outside Huronia Systems' control.

Huronia Systems does not guarantee:

- A specific search engine ranking;
- Placement on the first page of search results;
- A particular amount of website traffic;
- Increased sales or revenue;
- A specific conversion rate;
- Customer acquisition;
- Business growth;
- Acceptance by a third-party platform; or
- Any other commercial outcome.

Past outcomes, examples, portfolio materials, projections, or estimates do not guarantee future results.

7. Software, Websites, and Technical Systems

Software, websites, hosting environments, APIs, databases, integrations, and technical systems may experience errors, interruptions, compatibility problems, vulnerabilities, or unexpected behaviour.

Unless expressly guaranteed in a signed Project Agreement, Huronia Systems does not represent or warrant that any website, software, system, or Service will:

- Operate continuously or without interruption;
- Be entirely free from defects or vulnerabilities;
- Work with every browser, device, platform, or integration;
- Remain compatible with future software or platform updates;
- Meet requirements that were not disclosed and accepted;
- Prevent every security incident or data loss event; or
- Remain functional after unauthorized modification.

Clients are responsible for maintaining appropriate backups, security practices, access controls, updates, and operational procedures for systems under their control.

8. Security Information

Security information, recommendations, monitoring, audits, or safeguards provided by Huronia Systems are intended to reduce risk but cannot eliminate all risk.

No website, network, device, application, transmission method, or storage system can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

Unless expressly included in a signed Project Agreement, Huronia Systems does not guarantee that it will identify, prevent, or remediate every:

- Vulnerability;
- Unauthorized access attempt;
- Malware infection;
- Data breach;
- Configuration error;
- Service disruption;
- Fraudulent activity; or
- Other security incidents.

Clients must promptly report suspected compromises and take reasonable steps to secure their own accounts, devices, credentials, and systems.

9. Third-Party Services and External Links

Our website, Services, Deliverables, reports, and recommendations may refer to or rely upon third-party websites, software, platforms, products, services, libraries, hosting providers, APIs, plugins, or other external resources.

Huronia Systems does not control third-party providers and is not responsible for their:

- Content;
- Availability;
- Accuracy;
- Security;
- Privacy practices;
- Pricing;

- Performance;
- Compatibility;
- Terms or policies;
- Service interruptions; or
- Changes or discontinuation.

A reference or link to a third-party resource does not necessarily constitute endorsement, sponsorship, partnership, or approval.

You are responsible for reviewing and complying with any third-party terms, licences, privacy policies, fees, and requirements that apply to your use of an external product or service.

10. Client-Provided Information

Huron Systems may rely on information, instructions, credentials, files, content, measurements, specifications, access, and representations supplied by a Client or another authorized person.

Huron Systems is not responsible for loss, delay, error, or unexpected results caused primarily by information that is:

- Inaccurate;
- Incomplete;
- Outdated;
- Misleading;
- Unlawfully provided;
- Supplied without required authorization; or
- Withheld from Huron Systems.

Clients are responsible for reviewing project information, previews, Deliverables, and approvals for accuracy before authorizing final delivery or deployment.

11. Client Materials and Intellectual Property

Clients are responsible for ensuring that they have the rights, licences, permissions, and authority required to provide and use any text, images, logos, trademarks, software, data, documents, audio, video, or other materials supplied to Huron Systems.

Huron Systems does not independently verify ownership of all Client-provided materials.

The inclusion of Client-provided content within a project does not constitute a representation by Huronia Systems that the content is lawful, accurate, non-infringing, or authorized.

12. Testimonials, Examples, and Portfolio Materials

Testimonials, case studies, portfolio materials, examples, demonstrations, and descriptions of previous projects represent individual experiences and circumstances.

They do not guarantee that another Client will receive the same result.

Portfolio and promotional materials may be displayed only where the applicable Client has provided authorization in accordance with our Terms & Conditions or another written agreement.

13. Service Availability

Huron Systems may modify, restrict, suspend, or discontinue general website content, features, or Services, subject to any existing contractual obligations.

We do not guarantee that the website, Client Portal, knowledge base, or other general Services will always be available, uninterrupted, current, or free from technical issues.

Access may be interrupted because of maintenance, security work, software updates, infrastructure changes, third-party outages, or circumstances beyond our reasonable control.

14. Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, Huronia Systems will not be liable for indirect, incidental, special, exemplary, punitive, or consequential loss or damage arising from reliance upon general information, recommendations, external links, third-party services, or materials covered by this Disclaimer.

This includes loss of:

- Profits;
- Revenue;
- Business opportunities;

- Anticipated savings;
- Data;
- Goodwill;
- Reputation; or
- Use of a website, system, product, or service.

Liability relating to contracted Services is governed by the applicable Project Agreement and the Terms & Conditions.

Nothing in this Disclaimer excludes or limits any right, warranty, condition, remedy, or liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited under applicable law. Ontario consumer law may preserve certain rights despite contractual disclaimer language.

15. Changes to this Disclaimer

Huroniasystems may update this Disclaimer to reflect changes to its Services, business practices, technologies, or legal obligations.

The current version will be identified by the "Last Revised" date at the beginning of this Disclaimer.

Changes apply prospectively and do not retroactively alter a signed Project Agreement unless the parties agree in writing.
